MARQUEE ALUMNAE

Entering its 23rd season, the Women's Premier Soccer League has provided thousands of elite female players with the opportunity to grow and continually develop their game to take them to the next level. As a result, the WPSL has produced an impressive resume of Marquee Alumnae who have gone on to play professionally both stateside and internationally, as well as earning National Team Honors on FIFA World Cup and Olympic stages.

As many still play in the National Women's Soccer League and internationally, those who have retired from the game have continued earning accomplishments such as turning to coaching, sports broadcasting, and even making the New York Times Best Sellers List. In 2019, Brandi Chastain and Leslie Osborne both joined the California Storm's Board of Directors - the team the duo both played for during their time in the WPSL.

Additional notable individual honors include Brandi Chastain's 2017 Hall of Fame induction and 2019 Ballon d'Or winner, Megan Rapinoe - only the second female to win the award.

PARTNER WITH THE WPSL

Companies who align their brand with the WPSL not only partner with the "Largest Women's Soccer League in the World" – but by doing so, their brand reaches an exclusive platform that includes direct engagement with 130 WPSL clubs, more than 3,000 elite players annually and the ever-growing women's soccer fan base.

- With a growth rate of 31% since 2016, the league's national footprint stretches from coast-to-coast with teams in 35-of-50 U.S. states and in 45 of the largest 50 metro-area markets in the country.
- The footprint of the league doesn't stop with its member teams as 59% percent of the WPSL's 2020 roster of teams are directly affiliated with elite youth clubs and academies, which have captured a number of state, regional and national titles, laying the groundwork for thousands of girls and boy's prep players to earn college scholarships.
- Thirty-eight WPSL teams also field men's teams in the MLS (2), USL Championship (2) USL1 (2), USL2 (17) and NPSL (15). Two clubs have ties to NWSL teams.
- Nearly 70% of WPSL players are current student-athletes at prestigious NCAA, NAIA and NCJAA institutions – from the likes of perennial powerhouses North Carolina, Florida State & Stanford to Minnesota State and Southeastern (Fla.) Universities.
